

Roseland Medical Centre

This attractive building was designed and built by Trumbley & Hampton based on the need for a medical practice with a supporting pharmacy. Three residential suites are on the second floor.

The structure used a combination load bearing stud walls and laminated wood trusses. Sound damping was incorporated into the floor and wall designs.

The exterior EFIS wall system with French balconies and awnings gives the building a warm stucco finish to blend well with both the commercial frontage and the residential neighbours.
